4-Color Run
Railpax Kicks Us
Nest for a Goose

The Star will resume test runs with four-color photography beginning Tuesday, March 30—the subject being a group of Hope women modeling 1971 Spring Fashions.

There were 19 previous Color Shows, with testing suspended after publication of "Farewell to Summer" Sept. 26, 1969.

The reason for the suspension was unpredictable results from an Eastman color-balancing film called Tri-Mask. The big Berkeley color separator would do three good jobs and then the fourth would turn out badly. For newspaper purposes an operation has to bat 100 per cent.

We discovered through one of our consultants who made a special trip to New York City that the fault was in the Tri-Mask film and that color technicians all over the country are returning to an older Eastman process using their Silver Mask film.

This required re-calibration of the Berkeley machine and a somewhat different shop procedure. All this was accomplished earlier in the month—and next Tuesday we will run our first Silver Mask production. We already have a second test run in process, to be published in April.

If the new schedule proves successful we will be in a position to cut the cost of four-color advertising drastically, and produce color separations for other newspapers and printers at a price lower than the lowest in the nation.

A Hope citizen speculates out loud that perhaps the major reason for the federally subsidized — Railpax omitting Arkansas from its new passenger service is that our voters have consistently supported a full crew law—adding to the expense of an already money-losing passenger service. It wouldn't be the first time that a tyrannical law priced a public service out of business—or blocked its return, as may be the case with Railpax.

My pair of Canada Geese are nesting again, but my excursions into "the Back 40" to see how they're coming along are most unwelcome.

All I wanted to know was whether the hen had laid any eggs. Coming in as quietly as I knew how I was nipped by the gander, and the hen reared up in the nest to show there were no eggs as yet.

But one thing I did note: The Canadians had lined the nest with down—so they are expecting and all's right with the world.

Plans Underway for Kiwanis Variety Show

The Kiwanis Club Variety Show committees are busily engaged in making preparations for their 28th Annual Show to be presented at City Hall Auditorium one night only, Friday, April 16th, at 8 p.m.

Clifford Franks, chairman of the Advertising Committee, has made his assignments to the Kiwanis members for securing advertisements in the Souvenir Program. The Ticket committee head by K. G. Hamilton will be offering tickets in the very near future, and Paul O'Neal again has charge of the stage setting which will follow the format of the last few shows, that of a Country or Crossroads Store where all the action and all the "scintillating" conversation will take place.

Kiwanian Eddie Whitman, the overall chairman of this year's show, states that there will be more talented performers in specialty acts this year than ever before, more even than last year. However, such characters as Guy "Lem" Grigg, Harry "Zeke" Hawthorne, Eddie

University, AM&N Merger Approved

By BILL SIMMONS
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — After giving the issue its first lengthy public debate, the Senate approved 24-9 Thursday a bill that took a step toward the merger of Arkansas AM&N College with the University of Arkansas.

If certain conditions are met, the merger of the predominantly black institution at Pine Bluff with the U of A would take effect July 1, 1972.

The House had approved an earlier merger bill, whisking it through the morning hour with little debate, but AM&N president Lawrence A. Davis and students of the college protested that the bill, by Rep. Boyce Alford of Pine Bluff, was only a takeover of AM&N.

The new bill had been endorsed by Davis. The measure provides that when the merger is effected, the AM&N president would become the chancellor of the U of A's Pine Bluff campus.

Senate debate dispayed a wide divergence of opinion on whether blacks favored the new merger bill. Mail from blacks has come in heavily to legislators in opposition to merger.

Sen. Morrell Gathright of Pine Bluff told the Senate, however, that the mail reflected opposition that had mounted against Alford's bill, which has not been acted on by the Senate. Gathright said the new merger bill was supported by blacks who were up-to-date on the situation.

One of the conditions that must be met before the merger can take place is state payment of all debts incurred by AM&N prior to July 1 of this year. State fiscal experts say an additional appropriation of about $1.8 million will be needed to cover the institution's outstanding obligations.

The Legislative Joint Auditing Committee reports allege a $92,000 shortage in cash funds of AM&N in recent years and Sen. Clarence E. Bell of Parkin suggested that the merger effort was a result of the disclosure of the college's fiscal problems.

"I submit to you that if the Department of Administration had been on the ball it (the school's financial condition) wouldn't have gotten in the shape it did," Bell said, arguing that the merger bill was not the way to handle the problem.

Editor of Circular in Defense of Stand on Reassessing Proposal

EDITOR'S NOTE: It is the policy of The Star to give equal space to both sides of a controversial public issue. Wednesday this page carried a letter to the editor which was critical of a circular distributed by Wm. E. Tarpley which denounced a proposed Hope School District reassessment program by professional appraisers. The following is Mr. Tarpley's answer to that letter. Other letters on the issue, unless something unforeseen develops, will be carried in the regular Letters To The Editor column.

Printed below, in its entirety, is the bulletin which you so quickly take to task:

"One of the greatest hoaxes of this generation is about to be pulled over the people of Hope and Hempstead County unless they wake up. This hoax, clothed in secrecy, is being planned in minute detail by strategists in secret meetings held around the County and City for the past few weeks. The ultimate goal of this 'Special Interest' group is county-wide reappraisal of all real and personal property.

"Now this is not too surprising, nor is it the big hush-hush secret. The big secret is the manner in which it is to be done. This 'Special Interest' group is putting the pressure on County officials, civic organizations and individuals in order to gain enough support to bring in foreign appraisers to do the job. If you allow this, these appraisers will leave Hempstead County with $100,000.00 or more of your money—money from your pocket which will not be spent to benefit your County.

"We are not saying that the tax system in Hempstead County is perfect. We are saying that the Hope School Superintendent and School Board are not the people best suited to take over the job of Hempstead County Tax Assessor. This would be like leaving the wolf to mind the flock. Needing $50,000.00 more than he now has to cover his 'Proposed Budget', the Hope School Superintendent does not seem to mind spending another $50,000.00 for professional appraisers to come in and raise your property values. You are already paying a County Tax Assessor. Why should you pay another $100,000.00 to satisfy this 'Special Interest' group?

"To minds steeped in bureaucratic lethargy, one dollar for the appraisers and one dollar for the school is not too high a price to pay to get the additional money. After all, the taxpayer picks up the whole bill. It costs the Hope School District nothing!

"If the people of Hempstead County stand still for this outrageous money-grabbing conspiracy now, we can mark our calendar for more of the same each succeeding year. 'The greedy few, approaching as near to reason as is possible, readily conclude there is a lack

Admittedly, your boss isn't the most talented guy in the office, but if you had a choice, wouldn't you rather simply have his salary than his title or his duties?

As you get older, are you oppressed by the feeling that each U.S. Congress does less than the one before?

If you were browsing alone in a bookstore and no clerk was looking, wouldn't you sneak a peak at an illustrated sex book rather than an illustrated copy of "Alice in Wonderland"?

Whenever you write a check to pay your life insurance premium, don't you invariably feel a bit melancholy and say to your wife, 'I'm worth more dead than alive'?

Have you written a live letter in the last 10 years to someone you shouldn't—and then torn it up unmaild?

Those are the questions. Now to your score. If you answered "yes" to each of them, you are as sane as your neighbors.

But, in this kind of world, is that enough?

U.S. Not to Impose Terms on Israel

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate critics of President Nixon's Middle East policy say they are pleased with Secretary of State William P. Rogers' assurances the United States won't try to impose settlement terms on Israel.

"He made it clear there were no preconditions on our part requiring the Israelis to leave the occupied areas" before negotiations, said Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash.

Sen. Jacob E. Javits, R-N.Y., who, like Jackson, had criticized administration attempts to get Israel back to the negotiating table, said Rogers told 67 senators at an unusual closed session Thursday no settlement would be imposed.

A number of senators including Jackson said they had misunderstood the U.S. position and Rogers had clarified it.

Victims of Kidnapings Unharmed

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Two young victims of separate kidnap incidents were free and unharmed today after the parents of one paid a $5,000 ransom and the father of the second met a demand for removal of four nude photographs from an art gallery.

The victims were Michael J. Register, 11, of Macon, Ga., who was held in handcuffs for nearly 20 hours while his parents arranged the ransom, and Richard E. Batey, 13, son of an official of the gallery in Memphis, Tenn.

Macon police said most of the $5,000 paid by Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Register was recovered because Michael managed to "appropriate" an identification card from one of his abductors and later led police to the house where he was held.

They arrested John Thomas Plummer, 20, who lives next door to the house, and charged him with kidnapping. Police said other arrests were expected.

In Memphis, the Batey boy was abducted from his home by a bearded gunman at about 8:30 p.m. Thursday and released 2½ hours later after his father went on local television and radio to report that the photos would be taken down.

The gunman had told him the boy would be released if he broadcast such a statement.

There was no immediate arrest in the case.

The photos, part of a show of more than 100 works that went on display at the Memphis Academy of Arts March 1, had been the subject of local controversy for the past week after one resident complained they were obscene.

Police said the gunman entered the home of Dr. Richard C. Batey, a parttime instructor in humanities at the academy and director of the exhibition and ordered the father and two sisters to lie down on the den floor.

In the Macon case, police said young Michael was abducted when he went out to a neighborhood grocery store at 6 p.m. Wednesday. Four hours later his parents received a call demanding the $5,000 ransom.

They obtained a bank loan early Thursday and, according to their instructions, delivered the money to an isolated area along Interstate 75 highway east of the city.

The boy was released in a wooded area where, upon being freed from the handcuffs, he managed to "appropriate" the identification card that had a name and photograph.

He made his way home two hours later.

Senate Defeats Prison Bill to Display Its Disapproval of Sarver

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Senate defeated the prison appropriation bill Thursday to display disapproval of Correction Commissioner C. Robert Sarver and the House cut the recommended salaries for 12 of the principal directorships under the reorganized state government.

Earlier this week, the House had defeated a bill to increase the governor's contingency fund to provide money that might be used for emergency prison needs. Subsequently the prison money was pared from the bill and has been offered as a separate bill.

The Senate voted 18-8 against the major bill, which would provide $2.1 million in fiscal 1971-72 and $2.5 million in fiscal 1972-73 for prison operations, roughly the figures the Legislative Council had recommended.

Sen. Guy H. "Mutt" Jones of Conway led the attack on Sarver, saying the commissioner had mismanaged the prisons but had escaped general blame because he had "conned" the public, particularly newspaper editors.

"He's the kind of man who would sell a widow a suit with two pair of pants to bury her husband in," Jones told the Senate. "Anything he has to do with the money you appropriate is not worth a hoot."

The bill provides a salary of $18,000 annually for the commissioner's salary and Jones said there was no way he could vote for the bill as long as the money would be going to Sarver.

Sen. Harold King of Sheridan noted that the measure contained $10,000 for court costs, which Sen. Robert Harvey of Swift explained was an amount to help counties, particularly Lincoln County in which Cummins Prison Farm is located, defray expenses incurred through handling cases involving prison inmates.

Jones said the prisons had become "the scapegoat of the nation" and comic in the capricious way they were operated. He recalled seeing a cartoon that showed one man saying to another, "You want to go fishing or go watch the convicts walk away?"

Sen. Bob Douglas of Texarkana, who voted against the bill, kept the measure alive by giving notice that he would seek reconsideration of it.

Eventual Senate approval of the appropriation bill is expected. Sen. John F. Bearden Jr. of Leachville, who spoke against passage of the bill, said tying the measure up for a day or two to express Senate sentiment toward Sarver would be

Vietnamese Reinforce North Front

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese rushed reinforcements to the northern front today as the allied commands reported a buildup of enemy troops and long-range artillery in the demilitarized zone dividing North and South Vietnam.

The U.S. Command announced 20 American fighter-bombers attacked a new North Vietnamese surface-to-air missile site Thursday in the Lao-tian panhandle, one mile northwest of the DMZ.

Artillery duels were reported across the DMZ, and U.S. military sources said the North Vietnamese had moved long-range artillery into the northern half of the six-mile-wide zone for the first time.

The U.S. Command said enemy activity in the DMZ has increased 50 per cent.

The Saigon government announced that several battalions of fresh troops were flown to the northern front. Lt. Col. Tran Van An, chief spokesman for South Vietnamese military headquarters, said there are now more than 20,000 Saigon troops in Quang Tri, South Vietnam's northernmost province.

An said some other units that were badly cut up in the Lao-tian campaign had been reinforced and reorganized to make them combat effective once more.

An said the buildup could have three meanings:

—Preparation for a new South Vietnamese offensive.

—Defense against North Vietnamese attacks, including one from across the DMZ.

—A rest period for troops just returned from the campaign in Laos.

Asked if the South Vietnamese might make a limited attack into the DMZ in an attempt to neutralize North Vietnamese forces moving in, An replied:

"I cannot say. I never predict what we're doing. I don't know. Wait a few more days."

Some sources felt it would be impossible for the South Vietnamese to mount a big offensive into the DMZ or into North Vietnam after the heavy losses their forces suffered in Laos.

The U.S. Command said the new SAM site was located by reconnaissance planes in the lower Lao-tian panhandle one mile west of the North Vietnamese border and one mile northwest of the DMZ.

Tech Singers Coming to Hope March 31

The Madrigal Singers from Arkansas Tech College in Russellville will be in Hope next Wednesday, March 31, under the sponsorship of the Lonoke Baptist Church.

Willie Cooper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Cooper of Hope, is a senior at Arkansas Tech this year and is one of the 16 members of the group. The singers included eight girls and eight boys and are under the direction of Mr. C.W. Hefner, Jr.

The Hope High School Madrigal Singers will present a program for the Tech group early Wednesday evening at the Lonoke church after which both groups will be served a supper meal by the ladies of the church.

Then beginning at 8:00 p.m. the Tech Madrigal Singers will present a concert for the public in the City Hall Auditorium.

Tickets for this event may be obtained from ladies of the church or from Hope Madrigal members. Advance tickets are $1.00 for adults and 50 cents for students; admission at the door is $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for students.

These young people from Tech were heard in concert last year by the Hope Madrigal Singers when they went to Russellville for a Madrigal contest. Miss Nicholson and the girls in her group are sure that this year's program will be equally fine and entertaining.

Calley Jury
Have Monday for Verdict

FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — The jury in Lt. William L. Calley's murder trial must have a verdict by Monday or the judge will ask the reason why. The deliberations are in their 10th day today.

"It's a touchy matter," Judge Reid Kennedy said Thursday as another day passed without indication a decision is close. "I'm not sure just what I'll say to them. There really isn't any precedent for this. I don't know of any military jury that's ever taken so long."

The trial, too, is the longest court-martial in history, beginning on Nov. 12.

The six combat officers of the jury are considering four specifications against Calley: that on March 16, 1968, when he led his infantry platoon through My Lai, he murdered at least 30 civilians at a trail crossing, at least 70 more at a ditch, plus a man and a child.

On each count the jury can return one of four findings: acquittal, or guilty of premeditated murder, unpremeditated murder or manslaughter.

Premeditated murder is punishable by life imprisonment or death. For unpremeditated murder life in prison is the maximum. Each count of voluntary manslaughter could bring up to 10 years.

The six officers on the jury deliberated through a rainy day Thursday without asking, as they have been doing, for a readback of testimony.

It was only the third day since they got the case March 16 that the jurors have not been back in the courtroom for some legal action.

Students Feel
Nixon Really Concerned

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three college students say 25 minutes in private with President Nixon convinced them he is genuinely concerned about communicating with the young but isn't sure how to do it.

"You get a feeling of genuine concern, but that he's isolated in his office," said Stanley Grimm, 21, of Fargo, N.D. "I think he understands the depth of the problem, but is befuddled as to how to handle it."

"He's not isolated as to what young people do, but as to why they do it," said Walter Byrd, 21, of Kerrville, Tex. "No one seems to be able to tell him why."

And Steve Baker, 21, of Montreal, a senior at Hamilton College in New York, said he told Nixon: "The two questions on students' minds are: 'What country are we invading today and what can we do to beat you in '72?' The President seemed to know that. He looked resigned to it."

Grimm, a senior at George Washington University; Eileen Friars, 21, a senior at Simmons College in Boston; Jay Sternoff, 20, of Bellevue, Wash., a Bellevue Community College sophomore; Byrd and Baker met privately with Nixon at the White House Thursday.

Presidential aide Robert Finch arranged the appointment for the five, members of the National Student Congress of Student Body Presidents. Finch had met with the students Wednesday and Thursday before suggesting the meeting with Nixon.

In an interview after the meeting, Baker, Byrd and Grimm said Nixon expressed disappointment more young people are not inviting his advisers and administration officials to speak on college campuses.

Soviet Reds
Plan 24th
Congress

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Soviet Communist party congresses often have been milestone events. The 24th Congress, opening Tuesday, may have a dull and undramatic look, but some aspects suggest the possibility of a delayed-action wallop.

This congress may prove to be one that the current leaders of the Soviet party might wish they had foregone. This is not because the Congress itself is likely or able to do much on its own, but rather that the very convocation of this assembly draws attention to matters the leaders would rather keep under wraps.

A Soviet party congress has been a rubberstamp for the leaders since the Bolsheviks nailed down their authority in 1918. With the establishment of a dictatorship of the proletariat, debate went out of style. The congress has not been a forum but a platform for launching new programs, justifying old ones or unveiling policies which have been decided on in advance.

Joseph Stalin used party congresses as arenas for battle with his opposition, having, as general secretary, handpicked the delegates. Nikita S. Khrushchev used the 20th Congress in 1956 to denounce the memory of the dead Stalin and begin a process of de-Stalinization from which the international movement never wholly recovered.

Soviet leaders are getting old. Younger ones about to rise to places of authority seem to have less enthusiasm for rigid dogma. They will be watching with lively interest at the new Congress the performance of the oldsters of the ruling Politburo.

Leonid I. Brezhnev, today's general secretary, is 64 and not in the best of health. As party chief he wrestles at home with rising intellectual dissent, difficulties with national minorities and troubles in the economy. He has to face up to a problem of how much heavy industry, the muscle of state power, should surrender its lopsided priority in favor of responding to public demands for more goods and amenities.

Brezhnev, 67-year-old Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and others of the Politburo may look secure in their positions but they must keep their eyes on younger men coming up in the central committee.

Conversations might, in fact, turn on a 1961 clause in party statutes which requires that no less than a quarter of the members of the Central Committee and ruling Politburo be replaced at each regular election, which means at each party congress. There was a saving clause for top leaders, exempting them if they had "special abilities."

Nevertheless, the statute could cause some impatient men lower down the ladder to wonder when the oldsters, all of them with more than their share of tenure on the Politburo, might move aside to give somebody else a chance.

2 States May Lose U.S.
Welfare Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unless last minute accommodations are reached, two states will lose a total of $54 million a year in federal welfare aid next Thursday.

Welfare aid programs in four other states are in various stages of jeopardy.

The cutoff the first such in 20 years—would culminate a two-year Nixon administration drive to bring states into compliance with the complicated maze of federal welfare regulations.

Facing the fire next week are Indiana, with $39 million at stake, and Nebraska, with $15 million.

The two states are scrambling to correct what the government ruled in January were violations in their welfare systems.

Remedial legislation has passed the Indiana legislature and awaits the signature of Gov. Edgar D. Whitcomb, who has and favors the bill. Similar law has advanced to final reading in the Nebraska legislature.

The Indiana legislation contains an emergency clause putting its effects immediately

Bill to Give Congress
Final Word

By JOHN CHADWICK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department has agreed to draft legislation giving Congress the final word when a president refuses to spend appropriated funds.

Asst. Atty. Gen. William H. Rehnquist said he could not commit the Justice Department to support of such a bill but added: "We couldn't help but be sympathetic to its purpose."

Rehnquist agreed Thursday to write the legislation as Sen. Sam J. Ervin's Judiciary subcommittee on separation of powers ended three days of hearings on impoundment—the presidential practice of holding back money appropriated by Congress.

Ervin said he wants the subcommittee to consider a bill making impoundment orders subject to veto by either the Senate or House during a 60-day period.

The proposal was advanced by two university professors who testified at the hearings.

About $12 billion in appropriations, nearly half of it for highway construction, has been impounded by President Nixon.

Witnesses testified the practice was first used in a major way by Franklin D. Roosevelt and has been on an upward curve under all presidents since.

Sen. Charles Mc. Mathias, R-Md., a member of the subcommittee, agreed the type legislation Ervin asked the Justice Department to prepare might be the answer.

He told a reporter impoundment "has become a refined kind of veto" which relieves a president of the burdens, political and otherwise, of submitting a veto message to Congress.

Under the Constitution, the president has to accept or reject a bill as a whole. He cannot veto portions of a law of items of an appropriations measure. Congress can override a veto by a two-thirds majority in both houses.

Mathias said that rather than try to amend the Constitution to give the president an item veto, it might be better to set up statutory apparatus to get the same result.

but some government welfare experts doubt the changes, can be implemented quickly enough to avert next week's scheduled cutoff.

The government's main complaint with both states is their failure to increase maximum theoretical payments to families with dependent children to reflect inflationary price changes.

Of the 42 states that have met this requirement of a 1967 law, 37 increased payments and five imposed a proportional pay scale that actually lowered welfare benefits.

Warmer Is Word for Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Sunny skies and warmer temperatures have returned to Arkansas.

Thursday's weather was a brutal reminder that while it might be spring on the calendar, winter is still very much with the state.

The National Weather Service said that Jonesboro recorded three inches of snow on the ground, with one inch remaining at 6 a.m. this morning.

Arkansas experienced every foul weather imaginable Thursday—rain, sleet, snow, thunderstorms and even a tornado watch in the extreme southeast section of the state.

The highs Thursday ranged from 36 at Jonesboro to 45 at Fayetteville.

Overnight lows were Fayetteville, 24; Harrison, 33; Jonesboro, 34; Pine Bluff, 35; Texarkana, 37; El Dorado, 38; Memphis, 36; Little Rock, 35; and Fort Smith, 30.

Precipitation recorded during the 24-hour period ending at 6 a.m. today included: a trace at Harrison; .69 of an inch at Jonesboro; .69 at Pine Bluff; .09 at Texarkana; .28 hundredths at El Dorado; .01 at Memphis; .67 at Little Rock; and .09 at Fort Smith.

$1 Million
Taken From Money Truck

LONDON (AP) — Masked raiders carrying shotguns ambushed an armored money truck today and police said they escaped in a high-powered car with more than a million dollars in cash.

The gangsters abandoned another $10,000 in unwieldy coins as they rushed to make their getaway. It was described as the biggest cash haul in Britain since the Great Train Robbery in 1963.

Police were puzzled that there were no marks of forced entry on the yellow security truck.

One report said the eight-ton truck had parked at the side of the highway in the south London suburb of Croydon while its crew "spent a penny"—a British term for going to a public lavatory.

The raiders—some said, five, others six—then pounced from a large maroon-colored truck and forced its crew at gunpoint to open up.

They bundled 28 green sacks of notes worth 458,240 pounds—$1,099,776—into a red Jaguar limousine and sped off—leaving their truck blocking the road.

A reward of $108,000 was swiftly posted for their capture.

Police said at first $1.8 million was stolen, but it was found to be less when financiers checked their books.

Detectives said, however, it still could be the biggest cash haul since the $6.2 million in the Great Train Robbery.

Opinion on Arkansas
Waltz Asked

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Rep. George E. Nowotny Jr. of Fort Smith has asked the attorney general's office for an opinion on a Senate resolution designating the "Arkansas Waltz" by Bill Urfer of Heber Springs as the official state waltz.

Nowotny wanted to know if there is some "action the state should consider" to prevent the Senate action from being used to promote recordings of the song.

Nowotny asked for the opinion after the House rejected a resolution Thursday that said the Senate's unilateral action did not constitute official recognition of the waltz by the state.

The vote on the resolution was 41-15, 10 votes short of the number required for approval. House supporters of the waltz demanded the roll call vote after Speaker Ray S. Smith Jr. of Hot Springs had declared that the resolution had been adopted on a voice vote.

Nowotny's resolution calls the public's attention to the fact that House concurrence in the Senate action was required before Urfer's work could be declared the official waltz.

The resolution also said it would be against the public interest to represent the Senate's action as official legislative rec-

General New President of Argentina

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Lt. Gen. Alejandro Lanusse, leader of Argentina's new ruling junta, becomes president tonight after four days of collective rule.

The junta, which also includes navy Adm. Pedro Gnavi and Brig. Gen. Carlos Alberto Rey of the air force, will continue in operation. But Lanusse will now be the No. 1 member in name as well as in fact.

The junta that deposed President Roberto M. Levingston promised Thursday night that political parties soon would be legalized and the timetable for return to an elected government would be stepped up.

Lanusse, head of the army, and the commanders of the navy and air force ousted Levingston in a bloodless coup Tuesday because he wanted to delay return to civilian rule for four or five more years. The last presidential elections in Argentina were held in 1963.

The junta originally said it would rule the country jointly until the elections. No explanation was given for filling the presidency but Lanusse all along was considered the dominant member of the triumvirate.

He planned to remain in command of the army as well as holding the presidency.

In an effort to gain popular support the junta named Arturo Mor Roig, head of a seven-party coalition, to be interior minister.

Mor Roig was president of the Chamber of Deputies under Argentina's last elected president, Arturo Illia, who was ousted by a military coup in 1966. He also is a key member of Argentina's second largest political party, the People's Radical party. The Peronists are the largest faction, but they are anathema to the military.

Although banned since the 1966 coup, political parties have continued to exist but have been unable to campaign or organize in any commercial endeavor.

The Senate took its action in a simple resolution after the lower chamber twice refused to agree to a resolution requiring its concurrence that would have designated the waltz as the official state waltz.

Opponents of Nowotny's resolution argued Thursday that approval of the resolution might anger the Senate and tie up House legislation in the upper chamber.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—If you like collegiate basketball or old James Bond movies, Thursday night was probably a great time to watch television. But the pickings for other entertainment, were slim.

With NBC dedicated to NCAA basketball and CBS to 007, the available menu of new programs was mostly concentrated on ABC, with "Dan August," a drop-out after one season, the most promising network item.

But it turned out to be another of those stories built around freaky young revolutionaries—the kind with the Che Guevara posters on their walls. This time they were mixed up in the killing of a policeman, first of the show's homicides. While the plot was predictable, there was one great stunt by star Burt Reynolds, formerly a stuntman. He dropped out of a hovering helicopter onto the back of a man and they rolled into a scuffle.

The schedule for the week-end. However, holds considerable promise. Tonight there is the Easter show of NBC's "Hall of Fame," an adaptation of Paddy Chayefsky's 10-year-old play, "Gideon." This is a rather comedic treatment of the Old Testament story. Peter Ustinov is in the title role with Jose Ferrer playing the angel.

Bill Cosby will be on NBC at noon EST Saturday talking to children about the perils of drugs, with help from a cop, a priest and a doctor.

A new Charlie Brown cartoon feature, will appear on CBS Sunday evening, followed on

MRS. GARY D. THRASHER

The First Presbyterian Church was the setting for the March 25th wedding of Miss Betty Lee Morris and Gary Douglas Thrasher. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Morris, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stacy A. Thrasher. Mr. Thrasher and the Reverend James Sewell performed the double-ring ceremony.

Miss Sharon Qualls of Hot Springs presented the pre-nuptial music. She accompanied Miss Beverly Couch of Benton, who sang "The Greatest of These is Love."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of white organza which featured a bodice of Venice lace and a stand-up neckline. The skirt was fully gathered at the sides and back. The lace trimmed the sheer puff sleeves and cuffs. Her floor-length mantilla of illusion fell from a velvet headdress. Attached was a shoulder-length veil. The bride carried a nosegay of white roses and baby's breath.

The bride's attendants were Miss Linda Owen of Pine Bluff, Mrs. James Pilkinton, Jr. of Little Rock, and Miss Mary Nell Williams. They wore floor-length gowns of blue crepe. The gowns had stand-up necklines and sheer puff sleeves. The sides and back were fully gathered at the bodice. In their hair they wore slender blue crepe bows. The bridesmaids carried nosegays of white feathered carnations and yellow mums.

W.C. McBride was the groom's best man. Groomsman were Buzz Andrews and Jim Donahue of Pine Bluff, Ushers were Terry Dundee of Texarkana, Mike Tolleson and Alan Phillips.

Candlelighters were Miss Susan Faught, cousin of the groom, and Bruce Thrasher, brother of the groom. Miss Faught wore a fitted, yellow crepe, floor-length gown with short sleeves and a high neckline.

Mrs. Morris chose for her daughter's wedding a dress of

First Baptist Revival Meet Starts Sunday

The Spring Revival services will begin at First Baptist Church Sunday, March 28 and continue through April 4. Rev. Finley W. Tinnin, Jr. will be the evangelist. Rev. Tinnin is pastor of the Baptist Temple, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma. He was born in Winnfield, Louisiana and grew up in Shreveport.

He is the son of Dr. Finley W. Tinnin, Sr., who for 38 years was Editor of "The Baptist Message", the Louisiana Baptist Paper. He attended school in Shreveport, received a B.A. Degree from Louisiana College, and attended Chaplain's School at Harvard University. He has pastored churches in Jena, and Hammond, Louisiana, and in 1948 became pastor of his present church in Oklahoma City.

From 1943-1946 he served with the American Infantry Division, Guadacanal, Bougainville, Philippine Islands and Japan. He was awarded two Bronze Stars, and left the service with the rank of Major.

He is presently on the Board of Trustees of Oklahoma Baptist University; has been past speaker at Falls Creek, Oklahoma State Assembly, has spoken at State Evangelistic Conferences, and is on the Board of Trustees of New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary.

Carlos Gruber will be the Song Leader for the Revival. He is also a talented violinist. He has toured every Foreign Mission Field where Southern Baptists work. Each year he leads a tour party to the Holy Land.

Mr. Gruber was born in Latvia, and "born again" at the age of 11. With 2000 Latvian Baptists, he moved to Brazil and was active in Jungle Missions there. He graduated from College in Sao Paulo, studied violin with some outstanding teachers, and was active as choir conductor and music leader in Brazilian Baptist Churches. He came to the United States in 1937, graduated from Southwestern Seminary in 1940 and the same year was ordained to Gospel Ministry.

For six years he was pastor of the Latvian Baptist Church in New York City and was editor and publisher of a Latvian monthly. He conducted a successful Relief Campaign for Displaced Persons. Since 1945 he has averaged 25 revivals a year. He became a citizen of the USA in 1948 and was married the same year to Vivian Doris Mercer, College Professor in Spanish and French.

Services will be held Tuesday through Friday at 7:15 a.m., and Monday through Saturday at 7:30 p.m.

Knicks Open Playoff With a Win

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — In any vote on the player least likely to outflash both Pete Maravich and Walt Frazier, high up on the balloting would be Dick Barnett.

A stoic individual who methodically goes about his job without the slightest change of expression, Barnett normally leaves the heroics to his teammates on the New York Knicks. But Thursday afternoon was different. Barnett upstaged everyone on the court, including Maravich and Frazier, and while he still didn't crack a smile, he did lead the Knicks to a 112-101 victory over the Atlanta Hawks in their opening playoff game.

While Maravich hit only 9 of 25 shots from the field for Atlanta and Frazier only 7 of 24 for the Knicks from the backcourt, Barnett exploded in the final quarter for 17 of his 20 points and almost single-handedly carried the Knicks from a 90-83 deficit to victory.

The teams play again in Madison Square Garden Saturday night in the best-of-7 game National Basketball Association quarter-final series.

Baltimore plays at Philadelphia and Chicago at Los Angeles tonight in two other playoff series. Philadelphia and Los Angeles each lead 1-0. The fourth series, between San Francisco and Milwaukee, opens Saturday night at Oakland.

Barnett, who usually leaves the scoring to Frazier and Willis Reed, came alive with 13 of 14 New York points for a 97-95 lead, and then added another basket in a run of seven points in a row for a decisive 104-97 spread.

So hot was the 33-year-old guard that he even called his own play. "I asked for the ball a few times and I called my play a few times," he admitted almost sheepishly. "I guess the basket just looked bigger."

Guarding Barnett at first was Walt Hazzard and then Lou Hudson, who had 22 points, one less than Maravich.

Young Girl on School Hockey Team

POTSDAM, N.Y. (AP) — "Five-foot-two and eyes of blue."

That's not the kind of description you expect to find in a Stanley Cup program. But, if Bonnie Malek has her way, a lot of expectations may be changed.

Bonnie is 14 years old and last week she became the first girl ever admitted to the Kingston Hockey School—and she says she has never heard of a girl admitted to any other.

Kingston is one of a number of Canadian hockey schools, similar to summer basketball camps run by professional stars and coaches in this country.

Kingston is run by Wayne Cashman of the National Hockey League's Boston Bruins.

"I don't think I want to play against him," says Bonnie. "Oh no." This has nothing to do with women's liberation. I'm against that.

I can't see myself up against Phil Esposito or someone like that. But, I would like to go as far as my ability can carry me."

Actually this is Bonnie's first year on hockey skates, though she has been figure skating for many years.

I tried to join the team at school, but they told me it was far into the season." To her experience has been limited to pickup games on local ponds.

Kingston's prettiest goalie will be 15 by summer and expects to go to Kingston for the last two weeks in July.

Asked the goalie on the school to give me a tip to get ready, but he decided about it yet."

Six Games Decided by One Run

By TOM EMORY
Associated Press Sports Writer
The major league teams must be getting in shape for the opening of the regular baseball season April 5. Or, at least, they're working at not scoring more runs than necessary.

There were six preseason games Thursday decided by one run with three ending in 2-1 scores.

Of course, some teams aren't in shape like Cincinnati and Cleveland. The Reds belted Los Angeles 10-5 with 18 hits; the Indians got 20 hits in dispatching the Milwaukee Brewers 13-8.

In other games San Diego edged San Francisco 2-1; the Chicago White Sox nipped Minnesota 2-1; Philadelphia clipped Houston 2-1; Pittsburgh defeated Detroit 3-2; Atlanta downed Washington 8-7; California took Oakland 7-6; Boston beat St. Louis 6-2; and the New York Yankees topped the New York Mets 4-2.

Tommy Helms and Woody Woodward slammed home runs for Cincinnati as the Reds got 13 and seven runs hits off Los Angeles' Bill Singer. Helms, Lee May and Bernie Carbo each got three hits.

Richie Allen of the Dodgers also got a hit—on the head. He was injured before the game when he ran into a palm tree while chasing fly balls. The team doctor reported Allen had a mild concussion and some severe contusions. He is expected to be out a week.

Eddie Leon got four hits, including a home run and a double, Ray Fosse homered and Ted Ford and Buddy Bradford got three hits with two doubles each in the Cleveland victory over Milwaukee.

Ed Spiezio, playing for the first time since ending his holdout six days ago, blasted a home run in the 10th inning for San Diego's victory.

Walt Williams, Rick Reichardt and Bill Melton strung singles together in the 10th inning for Chicago's slim victory over Washington.

Wood Fryman pitched eight innings for Philadelphia. He got the victory when Terry Harmon doubled and Willie Montanez tripled in the eighth off Houston's George Culver.

Gene Clines' triple drove in two runs in the sixth for the Pittsburgh margin of victory. Al Oliver homered for the Pirates' other run.

Pinch-hitter Hal King hit a two-run homer in the ninth inning for Atlanta's triumph over Washington. Earl Williams also homered for the Braves and Joe Foy and Ed Stroud each hit their third of the spring for the Senators.

Alex Johnson, fined recently for lack of hustle, showed a lot of it as he belted home with the winning score for California when Oakland second baseman John Donaldson dropped a relay from the outfield.

Jim Fregosi homered for the Angels while Reggie Jackson, Rick Monday and Gene Tenace hit circuit shots for the Athletics.

Boston jumped on St. Louis pitcher Jerry Reuss for five runs in the eighth inning. The big belt for Boston was a bases-loaded single by Rico Petrocelli. George Scott homered for the Red Sox.

Mel Stottlemyre and Stan Bahnsen of the Yankees held the Mets to four hits. The Yanks scored twice in the first and in the fifth off Jerry Kosman, who became the first Met to work seven innings in an exhibition game.

MIAMI (AP) — Jerry Heard, an easy going young man with an unappalable disposition, shrugged off his position as the first-round leader in the $200,000 National Airlines Open Golf Tournament.

Asked if he feared the pressure with such formidable veterans as Lee Trevino and Miller Barber duking just one stroke back going into today's second round, the 23-year-old Heard replied:

"I'll just try to relax, play as well as I can and let happen what will happen."

The husky, good looking young man from Visalia, Calif., had six birdies, no bogeys and needed only 27 putts in recording a six-under-par 66 Thursday on the 6,970-yard Country Club of Miami course.

That gave him a one-stroke margin over Trevino, the defending champion, the dangerous Barber, winner of the Phoenix Open and second to Arnold Palmer on his year's money-winning list, and Hale Irwin. Each had a 67.

A pair of Australian veterans, Bruce Devlin and Bruce Crampton, topped the list for 68. Also at that figure were Frank Beard, Dow Finsterwald, Herb Hooper and Earl Fennell.

South African Gary Player, winner of last week's Greater Jacksonville Open, and Tom Shaw and Carlyle Snead, each a two-time winner this season, were in a large group tied at 69.

Prescott Girls Champion Basketball Team

"Prescott Sr. Girls Capture State Title" This team is District 7 A runner up, that went on to win the class "A" State Tournament held in Greenwood, Arkansas. The first team to meet defeat at the hands of the Wolveretts was Highland, by a score of 56 to 45.

Next they faced a tough Joe T. Robinson team from Little Rock, a slow deliberate game proved the Prescott team superior by a score of 45 to 37.

Prescott played Wilmont in the semi-finals and defeated them 57 to 40. All the Wolveretts saw action in this game. Prescott faced the Alma Airdales for the Championship game. The game was close all the way and in overtime Francis Lavender scored all 6 points to give the Prescott team a 70 to 68 victory.

The Wolveretts finished their season with a 26 win and 3 loss record.

This is Coach Melba Hall's fourth year to coach the Wolveretts. She was voted most outstanding coach in District 7 A.

Bonaventure Eliminated in NIT Play

NEW YORK (AP) — Paul Hoffman stood in the runway under the stands at Madison Square Garden and sighed.

"Well, listen," the St. Bonaventure junior said, "there's always another game, another season. And it was just another foul shot."

Only minutes before, the 6-foot-1 guard from Hazelton, Pa., had stood at the foul line, preparing to eliminate Georgia Tech from the National Invitational Tournament and propel the Bonnies into Saturday's championship against rugged North Carolina.

But it never happened. His first shot whipped around the rim and out. The second one barely touched the iron and, though Hoffman didn't know it at the moment, the Bonnies were on their way to losing the double-overtime game 76-71 before 18,812 frenzied fans Thursday night.

North Carolina had a much easier time of it against Atlantic Coast Conference rival Duke, belting the Blue Devils 73-67 in the first of the two semifinals.

Duke will face St. Bonaventure in the consolation game preceding the nationally televised 1 p.m., EST, championship contest.

After a 67-67 tie, Jim Thorne's basket on a goallending call and two foul shot apiece by Tommy Wilson and Bob Murphy put the Engineers on top 73-67 and they coasted home. Thorne finished with a game-high 27 points. Carl Jackson had 18 to top the Bonnies.

Tech Coach John "Whack" Hyder said he was surprised his Engineers were able to keep up with the usually hard-running Bonnies. And he acknowledged that, for a while, it seemed neither team really wanted to win.

He recalled losing to St. Bonaventure by a slim 70-68 last Dec. 29 in the Gator Bowl tournament and, after the game, kidding with Bonnies' Coach Larry Weise about having a rematch.

"I guess neither of us really believed we'd get it but boy we sure did," Hyder grinned.

Then someone asked whether he'd joked similarly with North Carolina Coach Dean Smith after the Tar Heels walloped Tech 87-58 earlier this year.

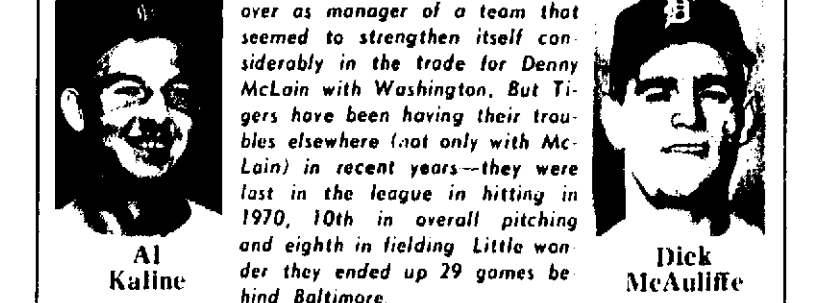

"Well ... "Hyder stalled, "you see, some coaches are I guess you could say more intense about the game than others—even when they win by 29 points. There are some you can kid with and some you can't. I guess I won't have much to say to Dean."

Smith didn't have much to say about the Tar Heels' opening-game victory against the Blue Devils.

DETROIT TIGERS
American League—East
PROSPECTUS: Billy Martin takes over as manager of a team that seemed to strengthen itself considerably in the trade for Denny McLain with Washington. But Tigers have been having their troubles elsewhere (not only with McLain) in recent years—they were last in the league in hitting in 1970, 10th in overall pitching and eighth in fielding. Little wonder they ended up 29 games behind Baltimore.

PITCHING—With McLain gone, Tigers are hoping to fill the gap with two ex-Senators, neither of whom was over .500 last year. Joe Coleman was 8-12, Jim Hannon 9-11. Mickey Lolich fell off to 14-19 last season and Joe Nickro wasn't much help at 12-13. Les Cain (12-7) may be a big winner. Best pitchers were in the bullpen: Les Cain (12-7), Mike Killebrew (7-6) and Tom Timmerman (27 saves). Rating: B

CATCHING—Bill Freehan had an off-season in 1970 after a back operation. Jim Price, his backup, may be seeing more work. Rating: C-

INFIELD—Norm Cash and Dick McAuliffe are back at first base and second, respectively, but rest of infield is new. Eddie Brinkman takes over at shortstop and Aurelio Rodriguez at third. Both are from Senators. Brinkman hit .262 last year, Rodriguez had 19 homers and 83 RBIs. Rating: B

OUTFIELD—Al Kaline, 36, hit .278 with 15 homers last season. He'll platoon in right field with Jim Northrup (24 homers, 80 RBIs). Northrup also will platoon occasionally with Mickey Stanley (.252) in center. Left field belongs to Willie Horton, who played in only 96 games last year after heel injury and hit 17 homers. Rating: B

ROOKIES TO WATCH—Catchers Tom Holley (22) and Gene Lumont (24) may start grooming for Freehan's job. Pitcher Dennis Saunders will get more of a chance this season.

Allen Well Liked by Teammates

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Beloved Richie Allen?

Yep the volatile slugger and oft-boomed outfielder has become a well-liked player by his new teammates of 1971, the Los Angeles Dodgers, and even more so when the palm of fate strikes him down.

Thursday it was a simple palm of tree, however.

Allen, running full tilt for a fly ball during outfield practice, crashed head on with the large tree which is on the playing field at Vero Beach's Holman Stadium. In seconds, the entire Dodger squad was around the fallen Allen, who hadn't lost consciousness.

An examination showed no broken bones but injuries to the head, neck, right shoulder and wrist included numerous cuts and, for precautionary reasons, Allen was ordered to spend 24 hours in a hospital bed at Doderstown.

Twelve palm trees, three light towers and a scoreboard dot the outfield at the Dodger spring training site but over the years, even with guys like the blithesome Pete Reiser on the Dodger team, no player ever was hurt running into them.

Willie Davis, the first man over to Allen's side Thursday, said it was "ridiculous" to have such things on a playing field.

Petty Favored to Win Pole Position

BRISTOL, Tenn. (AP) — Qualifying roars to a start to day for the 11th Southeastern 500 Stock Car Race with Richard Petty favored to win the pole position.

Petty, the all-time leading winner on the NASCAR circuit, will be shooting for his first pole position start this year when he streaks a 1971 Plymouth around Bristol International Speedway. The Randleman, N.C., star is aiming for career victory No. 124.

The top 10 starting slots will be settled today with 30 remaining positions decided Saturday. A field of 46 cars is entered for Sunday's 267-mile grind on the .533-mile oval.

Drivers will be trying for more than $32,000, with the winner expected to pocket about $6,000. The race starts at 1:30 p.m.

Flyers Almost Assured of Playoff Spot

The Philadelphia Flyers appear virtually assured of a spot in the National Hockey League playoffs.

They battled the Minnesota North Stars to a 2-2 tie Thursday night to take a seven-point lead over Pittsburgh in their drive to land fourth place and the last playoff spot in the West Division.

The Flyers now have 67 points to 60 for the Penguins. To assure themselves of the playoff spot the Flyers need only to win two of their remaining five games.

NEW YORK (AP) — Saying "I'm just here" Joe Frazier became the instant main attraction at a news conference called to introduce two other fighters and announce a fight-of-the-month series for home television.

Frazier Makes Appearance at Restaurant

"It gives me a great pleasure to be here after my funeral," jibed the heavyweight champion in making his surprise appearance at a midtown restaurant after driving from Philadelphia where he has been hospitalized for 11 days.

Frazier's reference to his funeral was a verbal jab at rumors and several published reports that he was in serious condition and even dead as a result of injuries suffered in his winning fight with Muhammad Ali.

"They got me to the point where I'm scared to be moving around," said Frazier. The champion then admonished sports writers: "When you write it, write it true."

He said he will be released from St. Luke's Hospital Saturday and that he has been "in the hospital to rest. If I go home, I get calls and everything."

Frazier also pointed out too, he really hasn't been confined. "I go and come as I feel."

Heated Toronto 5-3 in the other scheduled NHL games.

The Flyers, down 2-0, rallied to tie Minnesota on goals by Jimmy Johnson and Larry Hillman. Danny Grant and Jude Drouin scored for the North Stars.

Mickey Redmond's goal with 1:34 left to play broke a 3-3 tie and gave the Red Wings their victory over Vancouver.

The Canucks had taken a 3-2 lead in the second period on goals by Ted Taylor and Murray Hall. Red Berenson tied it for the Wings early in the third period.

Mike Byers and Bob Berry each scored two goals in leading Los Angeles over the Maple Leafs. Their second goals came after Norm Ullman had tied the score at 2-2 for the Canucks early in the third period.

The victory kept alive Los Angeles' faint hopes of making the playoffs.

3 Arkansans in Airlines Tournament

MIAMI (AP) — Miller Barber of Texarkana and R. H. Sikes of Springdale shot subpar rounds Thursday in the first round of the $200,000 National Airlines Open Golf Tournament. Barber had a five-under-par 67 with nines of 33-34 and was tied for second, one shot behind Jerry Heard. Sikes had a 70 with nines of 34-36.

Richard Crawford of Little Rock shot a 76 and was far back in the pack.

Youth Might Be Answer for Giants

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — A youngster of 20 with just one year's professional baseball experience could be the answer to the San Francisco Giants' perennial infield dilemma.

And another young aspirant could bolster the pitching staff. Except for these two, shortstop Chris Speier and right-handed pitcher Steve Stone, the Giants lineup with much the same array that finished third in the National League West a year ago.

They have power with first baseman Willie McCovey, outfielders Willie Mays, Bobby Bonds and Ken Henderson and catcher Dick Dietz.

However, never have the San Franciscans been satisfied with the shortstop-second base combination of Hal Lanier and Tito Fuentes.

So Speier, a 175-pound, 6-foot-1 product of Alameda, Calif., has been given full opportunity to win the shortstop job. Lanier and Fuentes have alternated at second base.

Although inexperienced, Speier has fielded his position well and in the early spring training games hit well over .300.

Signed out of the University of California at Santa Barbara, Chris was tabbed to play in the low minors last year, but his spring work a year ago won him a ticket to Amarillo where he hit .283 and made the All-Star team in the Texas League.

Even with right-handers Juan Marichal and Gaylord Perry on the staff, the Giants are hurting for pitchers. The pain may be eased by Stone, a graduate of Kent State University, who pitched for Fresno in 1969 and Amarillo and Phoenix last year. With the latter in the Pacific Coast League, he posted a 5-3 record with a 1.71 earned-run average.

With a good fast ball, slider, curve and two change-ups, Stone impressed Manager Charlie Fox during the spring games.

Marichal, who won 20 or more games in five of the six seasons preceding 1970, slid to 12-10 last year after an allergic reaction struck him during spring training.

Perry enjoyed his best season with a 23-13 season and veteran reliever Don McMahon had his best of 14 seasons in the majors with a 9-5 record and 19 saves.

Now the Giants look for more pitching aid, so Fox closely watches such as left-handers Ron Bryant, John Cumberland, Mike Davison and Lee Pitlock and right-handers Frank Reberger, Rich Robertson, Jim Willoughby and Jerry Johnson.

Veteran reliever Steve Hamilton, a southpaw, also was obtained from the Chicago White Sox a few days ago.

Reberger could be the best bet to make the starting rotation.

With his 40th birthday coming up on May 6, Mays remains entrenched in center field. He hit .291 with 28 homers a year ago. McCovey, the first baseman, hit 39 homers and drove in 126 while hitting .289.

After serving a long apprenticeship, Dietz came into his own last year, hitting .300 with 22 home runs.

At least until Jim Hart redovers from his shoulder operation, Alan Gallagher will be the third baseman.

Frank Johnson is the most versatile of the Giants. He can play the outfield, third or first. He'll probably stick around for his utility value.

Fox goes into his first full season as the Giants' manager taking a long look at the shortstop-second base combination, his pitching and the bench strength. The Giants must show improvement to stay with Cin-

Americans Last in Hockey Play

BERN, Switzerland (AP) — "We've got our injury problems and so has every other team in the championship," said American team manager Hal Trumble today as the World Ice Hockey Championships neared the half-way stage.

"The Swedes still can upset the Soviets. And maybe before the championship ends April 3 somebody else will give the Russians a shock," Trumble said.

"After all we gave the Czechs the big blow in the opening game by defeating them 5-1. Since that opening game we've gone steadily downhill."

The Soviets head the six-nation standings with seven points from four matches with a goal count of 32 against eight. The Swedes also have seven points from four matches. They have scored 18 goals and conceded 10. Finland is third with five points and a goal score of 13 against 16; Czechoslovakia has three points with 15 goals against 33 from five matches and the United States trails at the bottom with two points from five games. The Yanks have scored 15 goals and conceded 29.

The West Germans defeated the Americans 7-2 Thursday night. It dropped the Americans into last place.

In Saturday's matches Finland plays Czechoslovakia and Sweden tackles the Soviet Union in a game that could be deciding one for the championship.

Then the six teams move to Geneva for return games.

Way Paved for More Trades in Football

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — National Football League owners have paved the way for more trades between the American and National conferences by extending the inter-conference trading deadline from April 15 to July 31.

"I think this will open it up more," said Al Davis, managing general partner of the Oakland Raiders. "I will allow everybody to get to camp, see their young people, take a look at their vets and see what they've got on their own club."

"When a coach goes to camp he may possibly feel that one or two more men could give him the big year, and look around to see what he can get."

At the time of the merger between the American and National Football leagues the prospect of trading across conference lines, which previously had been barred, was expected to trigger a large number of transactions.

But because the inter-conference period expired before training camps opened, there have been few such trades completed. Only three have been completed since the end of last season.

Now the list is expected to grow.

And so is the league's fine coffer, for while the owners were extending the draft deadline Thursday they also placed a price on the head of any player who leaves the bench to take part in a fight on the field.

To do so now automatically will cost a player $200.

In other action, the owners defeated a field goal rule change and a proposal to change the order of the draft, kept the 40-man player limit for at least another year and tightened the rule on intentional grounding of a pass.

Ben-Gurion Urges Some Withdrawal

NEW YORK (AP)—David Ben-Gurion, Israel's first prime minister, is urging withdrawal from all conquered Arab territory Egypt, East Jerusalem and the Golan Heights.

The patriarchal Ben-Gurion, now 84 and a legendary figure of Israel's struggle for independence, is quoted as saying that "the hour of fate has struck" for seeking a settlement and that a "bad peace is better than a good war."

The statements are attributed to the retired statesman by John McCook Roots, an author whose report on an interview with Ben-Gurion appeared today in the Saturday Review.

Ben-Gurion directed Israel's military punishment of the Egyptians in the Gaza Strip in 1955, a retaliation for Arab commando activity and one of the events leading to the Suez crisis of 1956 in which Israel occupied Egypt's Sinai Peninsula for the first time. Ben-Gurion directed the withdrawal from Sinai after receiving assurances from the United States that a cooling of the crisis would pave the way for a measure of Middle East stability.

The article quotes him: "Peace, real peace, is now the great necessity for us. It is worth almost any sacrifice. It gets it, we must return to the borders before 1967. If I were still prime minister, I would announce that we are prepared to give back all the territory occupied in the six-day war except East Jerusalem and the Golan Heights-Jerusalem for history's sake and the Golan for security."

The Golan Heights, taken from Syria in 1967, commands Israeli settlements in the Galilee area. East Jerusalem, once part of Jordan, has since 1967 been incorporated into a single city with Israel's western sector. Israel also occupies the Palestine bulge on the west bank of the Jordan River, taken from the Jordanians, the Gaza Strip between Egypt and Israel, the Sinai Peninsula, the strategic point of land known as Sharm el Sheikh, commanding the Tiran Strait. The current Israeli government has indicated that some of these, in certain circumstances, might be negotiable, but not East Jerusalem nor the Golan Heights.

Demos Make Policy, GOPs Make Money

By WALTER R. MEARS
AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—While the Democrats made policy, the Republicans made money Wednesday in a day of politicking that centered on Vietnam. President Nixon told a GOP fund-raising dinner that grossed a reported total of more than $1.6 million that by next year Americans will be able to look ahead not only to "the end of an involvement" in South Vietnam, but to a full generation of peace.

Vice President Spiro T. Agnew pronounced the credibility gap the problem of "those who would demean" Nixon's Southeast Asia policy.

While the President and the vice president defended the administration course at a $100-a-plate dinner, Democratic policymakers were demanding the withdrawal of all American forces from Indochina by the end of 1971.

"The overwhelming majority of the American people favor a total American withdrawal in 1971," the Democratic Policy Council said.

Agnew said Nixon has matched his pledge to wind down the war and gradually withdraw American forces.

"Every single commitment that has been made toward that end has been met," the vice president said. "The credibility gap is not with the President of the United States, but with those who would demean his Vietnam policy."

Nixon who repeatedly has rejected proposals for a U.S. withdrawal deadline, said American involvement already has been cut approximately in half.

"I believe that as we go into the year 1972, Americans can see ahead not just the end of an involvement, but what we have wanted and what we have not had in this century, a full generation of peace," Nixon said.

He said they will be able to look also to prosperity without war.

GOP Group Chuckles at Agnew Jokes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Spiro T. Agnew surveyed the $1,000-a-plate crowd, and allowed that he wasn't worried about rumors Secretary of the Treasury John B. Connally might supplant him on the 1972 Republican ticket—"have you ever heard a Texan pronounce pusillanimous?"

That word, of course, was a hit of the Agnew repertoire in the last campaign. Wednesday night, Agnew came on as a deadpan political humorist, and noted Sen. Robert J. Dole, the national chairman, is the Republican doing the partisan slugging now.

"Who does he think he is? Me?" said Agnew.

The Agnew routine began just after dessert with an acid remark about a familiar vice presidential target:

"As avid readers of Time, Newsweek, the New York Times, and the Washington Post, and as avid listeners to the networks, you must be curious about what's going on in the world."

Then on to the leading Democratic prospect for the 1972 presidential nomination, Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine:

"Just last week Sen. Muskie spoke up decisively and set Dec. 31 as the deadline for the end of the year."

Then on to the State Department, and the relative roles of the secretary and of the President's adviser on national security affairs:

"I want you to know that the President has complete confidence in Secretary of State Kissinger ... Henry Kissinger's not trying to usurp the powers of Bill Rogers or anyone else. He made that perfectly clear in his State of the World address."

The first Act of Congress was a bill regulating the time and manner of administering the oaths of office required by the Constitution. Article VI

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB Temperature Rise May Be Normal

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I have a boy, 14½ years old. He is very husky and appears healthy. About three years ago he ran a temperature at night, beginning at about 5:30 p.m. to 6 p.m. and we put him in the hospital for tests of all kinds. They came up with streptococcal throat and gave him shots and antibiotics. Now he runs a temperature of 99 to 99.6 or 99.8. Despite treatments, he continues to have the temperature. What I want to know is, is it dangerous and what could cause my son to be sick with this temperature?

Dear Reader—There is a good possibility that there isn't anything wrong with your son. The figure of 98.6 F. for body temperature is strictly an average one.

Body temperature in a person varies throughout the day and the difference may be 2.0 or even 3.0 degrees. The lowest temperature is in the late afternoon or early evening just as you have noted in your son.

If there is no other indication of illness in your "husky boy," it seems to me the best idea would be to throw the thermometer away and let him lead a normal life.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I have just taken your do-it-yourself physical and failed miserably. I am a 24-year-old female and have two children. I am about 25 pounds overweight and smoke almost constantly. Without an examination, can you tell me if my chances of developing arteriosclerosis or heart disease will reverse if I mend my ways?

Dear Reader—No, it's not too late; in fact, much older people with known heart disease, even previous heart attacks, can often benefit by making a marked change in their living habits. You have one thing in your favor and that is being female. Women are less apt to have heart attacks until later in life.

The incidence in women, however, is significantly increased in those who smoke. A lot of the things that cause a woman to age prematurely are related to her living habits. This includes lack of physical exercise, developing obesity and the excessive use of tobacco.

This is one place where the old proverb, an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, is really true. (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

LBJ Project Is Being Phased Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon is phasing out Project 100,000, a Johnson administration antipoverty program for bringing young men into the military under lower physical and mental standards.
Fewer than 50,000 are expected to enter the program this year and Defense Department officials say this figure will drop further as draft calls decline.
Project 100,000, launched in 1966 as part of President Lyndon B. Johnson's War on Poverty, was designed to "salvage the poverty-stricken youth of our society" for military service and later for civilian life.

The original goal was a yearly sign up of 100,000 men formerly disqualified for the draft or volunteer enlistment. But it only reached that level in 1968 and since has fallen off every year.
In a memo to the military services, Roger T. Kelley, assistant secretary of defense for manpower and reserve affairs, reduced this year's quotas and said the "long-range objective is to eliminate quota controls as draft calls reach or approach zero."

The Nixon administration hopes to end the draft by mid-1973 and make military service voluntary.

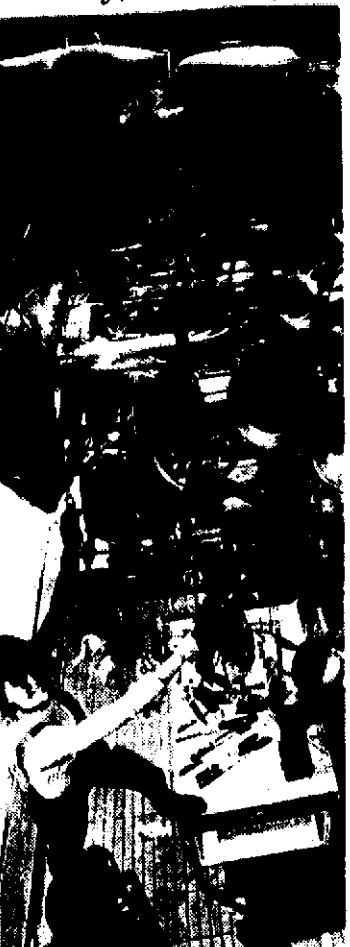

Under Project 100,000, each of the services was given an annual quota to fill. Since 1966 more than 300,000 of these "new standards men" have been inducted.

A Pentagon spokesman said Project 100,000 quotas are being reduced as the size of the armed forces shrinks from the current level of 2.9 million to 2.5 million next year.

However, the spokesman said, ending the draft will not mean men with lower physical and mental ability will be rejected automatically.

But indications are the Navy and the Marines will overlook these men and take only those meeting their highest standards.

Promises No Slackening in Aid to Poor

By PEGGY SIMPSON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The head of the federal antipoverty agency has promised Congress government help for the poor won't slacken when some existing War-on-Poverty agencies merge with the proposed Action Corps.

Frank Carlucci testified Wednesday as the Senate confirmed his appointment as director of the Office of Economic Opportunity and President Nixon sent Congress his blueprint for the Action Corps.

Carlucci said some of the agencies to come under the Action Corps umbrella are not specifically geared toward the poor.

But he told a Senate subcommittee hearing on a two-year extension of OEO this doesn't mean the efforts of agencies aimed directly toward helping the poor would be diluted.

"I would assume the activities of VISTA Volunteers in Service to America would continue," Carlucci testified, adding: "I don't anticipate any slackening."
VISTA would be one of five agencies to come initially under the Action Corps after 60 legislative days unless Congress vetoes the plan. The others are Auxiliary and Special Volunteer Programs of the OEO; Foster Grandparents, and the Retired Senior Volunteer Program of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare; and the Service Corps of Retired Executives and Active Corps of Executives in the Small Business Administration.

If this reorganization succeeds, Nixon would place the functions of the Peace Corps and Office of Voluntary Action in the Department of Housing and Urban Development and ask Congress to transfer the Teacher Corps to the Action Corps.

He named Peace Corps Director Joseph Blatchford to head Action Corps and asked Congress for $176 million for the new unit, $20 million more than the budgets of the combined agencies. Blatchford said the extra money would be used for experimentation and expansion.

Our Symbol

One of our most treasured relics is the Liberty Bell. It is so-called because it was rung on July 8, 1776 to summons the citizenry for the terse announcement that the Declaration of Independence had been adopted. Today, it remains the greatest symbol of a nation free from tyranny in government and intolerance in religion

... that nation is America. But one fact often overlooked is that when the historic bell was originally cast its makers turned to the Bible, to Leviticus, for the words inscribed around its contour: "Proclaim Liberty throughout the land unto all the inhabitants thereof." What a beginning! What a heritage! What a privilege to be a son or daughter of Freedom's Land. What a blessing to be an American.

How great is our Symbol!!!

Cage Player Places Self on Market

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Position wanted: Forward with a professional basketball team. Qualifications: Five years' experience in the National Basketball Association, 6 feet 8, 220 pounds, a rugged rebounder.

Toby Kimball has placed himself on the market as the first NBA player to exercise his contract option and become a free agent.

His former team, the San Diego Rockets, finished the regular season Sunday and failed to qualify for the playoffs. Thus Kimball is unobliged to play another game for the team.

He refused to sign a 1970-71 contract for less pay, choosing to play out the one-year option in his contract. The privilege of becoming the NBA's first such free agent cost him the maximum 25 per cent during the past season from his 1969-70 salary, reportedly $30,000.

"I'll be 29 this year," Kimball said, though his balding pate makes him appear older. "I want to play three more years."

With whom? At this point he isn't sure except "I definitely won't be here next season."

"My attorney is handling everything," he said of Larry Flesher, NBA Players' Association lawyer in New York. "I just want to be treated fairly."

He declined to comment on his relations with the Rockets. Kimball said he wants to join another NBA club but won't ignore offers from the rival American Basketball Association.

Jim French in South for Executioner

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jim French, badly beaten by Hoist the Flag up North, will face the Executioner down South Saturday in a big confrontation involving Kentucky Derby-age colts.

Jim French, who finished a distant fourth behind Hoist the Flag in the Bay Shore at Aqueduct last Saturday, and six of the 3-year-olds are expected to take on Executioner in the 1 1/4-mile, $100,000-added Florida Derby at Gulfstream Park.

Executioner, owned by Peter Kissell, has won four of his last five starts including the Flamingo, another major stepping stone to Kentucky. Executioner, Frank J. Caldwell's Jim French, winner of two Florida stakes this year, Brookmeade Stable's Limit To Reason, and Lee Bongarzone's Landing More each will carry 122 pounds.

The other probables are Craig Cullinan Jr.'s Bold Inquiry, Calumet Farm's Eastern Fleet, Mrs. Taylor Hardin's Sole Mio and J.J. Harris' Adobe Ed. Each will carry 118 pounds. Three-year-olds also will be featured at the New Orleans Fair Grounds, with Heli Rise, owned by New Orleans interests and winner of both 1971 starts, heading a probable field of 14 in the Louisiana Derby.

Others expected for the 1 1/4-mile, $50,000-added test include three invaders from Florida—Ogden Phipps' Will Hays, John M. Olin's Northfields and Pastore Stable's Twist The Axe.

Big money also is on the line in the $75,000-added San Luis Rey Handicap at Santa Anita and a pair of $50,000-added races—the Westchester at Aqueduct and the Oaklawn Handicap at Oaklawn Park.

Young Women Want in Pro Tennis Play

NEW YORK (AP) — A lot of young women on the pro tennis circuit are wondering how to oust the "old ladies" and get into the big money games.

In five of the first nine events on the Virginia Slims Invitational tour, the same four players were semifinalists. The 10th semifinals here at the 34th St. Armory tonight follow the same script.

Top-seed, of course, is Billie Jean King, the reigning star of women's tennis in the United States. The 27-year-old resident of Long Beach, Calif. defeated Julie Heldman of New York 6-2, 6-1 Thursday to gain the semifinals.

Mrs. King has won seven of the nine tour events and over $24,000.

Rosemary Casals of San Francisco, an old veteran of 22, is the second seed and the second high money winner. She made the semis with a victory over Jane "Peaches" Bartkowicz, Hamtramck, Mich., 6-7, 6-4, 6-2. She has been a finalist four times.

Mrs. Ann Hayden Jones, 32, of England, had two tough matches to make the last four. She defeated Mrs. Nancy Richy Ginter of San Angelo, Tex. 6-7, 7-6, 6-4 Wednesday, then had to go three sets Thursday to defeat Kerry Melville, Australia, 6-0, 5-7, 6-1.

The fourth semifinalist is 28-year-old Francoise Durr of France, who defeated Ceci Martinez of San Francisco 6-0, 6-1.

Floridians Reel Off Five Wins

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Floridians have reeled off five straight victories in their late drive to land a berth in the American Basketball Association playoffs.

They whipped the Virginia Squires 128-105 Thursday night to move into fourth place in the East Division, one game ahead of the Pittsburgh Condors who lost to Carolina 128-122.

In other ABA games Indiana beat Denver 129-110 and remained tied for the West Division lead with the Utah Stars who whipped Texas 138-122.

Larry Jones, with 26 points, led the Floridians over the Squires who have already clinched first place in the East. Charley Scott paced the Squires with 19.

Bob Verga threw in 33 points as Carolina came from behind a 12-point deficit to beat the Condors and dim their playoff hopes. A free throw by Randy Mahaffey with 3:35 left put the Cougars ahead for good. John Brisker topped the Pittsburgh scorers with 32.

Three straight baskets by Mel Daniels at the start of the last period sparked Indiana over Denver. The baskets ignited a 22-5 Utah burst that broke open a close game. Fred Lewis topped the Pacers with 27 points. Larry Cannon got 38 for the losing Rockets.

Utah led all the way behind Zelmo Beaty's 39 points in beating Texas. Donnie Freeman was high for the Chaparrals with 25.

In the National Basketball Association Playoffs the New York Knicks beat Atlanta 112-101.

Black Caucus Finds Nixon Sympathetic

By JUSTIN SCOTT
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fourteen months after it was first requested, 13 black congressmen got a meeting with President Nixon Thursday. They described the hour-and-a-half discussion as fruitful.

"I did find him sympathetic to the presentation we made," said Rep. Charles Diggs, D-Mich., chairman of the House Black Caucus. But, Diggs added, any judgement on how useful the meeting was depends in large part on whether the President follows the 32 pages of recommendations he was given.

Among other things, the caucus asked for "continued productive liaison" with President Nixon. Their 60 specific recommendations included:

—Creation of 1.1 million productive public service jobs within a year.

—A $6,500 guaranteed yearly income for a family of four.

—Disengagement from Southeast Asia "preferably by the end of 1971, and definitely without part of any merger agreement."

HOPE (ARK.) STAR, Printed by Offset UNIVERSITY SENATE

(from Page one)

Bell, remarked that the mail they had received — some of it the first response legislators remembered ever receiving from their Negro constituents — overwhelmingly opposed the merger.

Sen. John F. "Mutt" Gibson of Dermott, in an impassioned oration, cited his mail as "crying out to leave it (AM&N) alone."

"What type of people are we who will destroy every vestige of identity of a people in our midst?" he asked. "If you pass this bill, we will be identified as part of a conspiracy to rob these people of their heritage."

He said black parents considered AM&N, which is the only identifiable black state institution of higher education, their school and the only one to which they send their children.

"Walk on their side of the street for a while and you may find that the people of the Caucasian race are not as smart as you think they are," Gibson said.

"Don't force them (blacks) to be militant," he said. "These people are sensitive. They've been knocked around and kicked around all over this country. It's time to leave them alone."

Sen. Olen Hendrix of Prescott, opposing the merger, said mail from black constituents in his district opposed the merger. "The gist is 'please don't take from us the last institution we have for ourselves,'" Hendrix said.

Sen. George Locke of Hamburg said he had polled Negro leaders in his area, "the people respected by the black community," and that they favored the new merger bill. He said he also had been told by Charles Bussey, a Negro on Little Rock's City Manager Board, that blacks wanted the bill approved.

Gibson asked who Bussey was and Locke said, "He's right there in the back of the chamber." A Negro sergeant-at-arms stood there, but it wasn't Bussey.

The bill, which goes to the House, was the result of negotiations carried out over the last few weeks. The discussions involved Gov. Dale Bumpers, Gathright, Sen. Knox Nelson of Pine Bluff, AM&N Coach Vanant Johnson, AM&N students and some members of the AM&N board.

Under the bill, the AM&N board would be reconstituted as a "board of visitors," which would work in liaison with the U of A board.

Future members of the visitors board would be appointed by the governor from a list of five names nominated by a committee of nine. The committee would be composed of three representatives of the general public and two AM&N students, two AM&N alumni and two members of the AM&N faculty or administrative staff.

Bumpers has not made a commitment to name a black to the U of A board, but he told newsmen that he did believe some black representation was needed on the university board, even though the appointment of a black to that board was not part of any merger agreement.

a worthwhile venture.

He noted that legislators had been accused of using the prisoners as a political issue, then recalled that a touring group of inmates who tell of the woes of a life of crime had visited a group in his area. Bearden said a prison employee with the group then told the audience that if former Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller left office mass executions would take place against Death Row inmates.

Sen. Oscar Alagood of Little Rock told Bearden he had heard a black state employee during the 1970 campaign state during a panel meeting that the blacks on death row would "burn" if Rockefeller was defeated. Bumpers beat Rockefeller in the Nov. 3 general election.

Sen. Virgil T. Fletcher of Benton, denouncing the news media for its treatment of some prison incidents, said it was a "staged" affair last Nov. 2, the day before the election, when inmates took hostages at gunpoint at Cummins but released them after Sarver made himself a prisoner of the convicts.

One prisoner who wanted to state that the incident was staged could not get himself interviewed by investigators, Fletcher said, "because his testimony wasn't 'right' and wasn't the kind they were looking for."

The bill got 18 favorable votes, with 27 needed, and eight votes were cast against it.

The House voted 60-33 to cut the recommended salaries for 12 of the 13 principal director positions under the governor's plan to reorganize the executive branch of state government.

Rep. Ralph Patterson of North Little Rock said he and others had been elected on promises that they would seek economy in government. "Instead of trying to trim the fat, we're adding a bucket of lard," Patterson said.

Rep. Cecil Alexander of Heber Springs offered an amendment slashing the salaries, which Bumpers had said should be raised to attract qualified people to the jobs. Alexander said he didn't vote for Bumpers' tax bills in order to raise the salaries of top jobs.

Bumpers had recommended $25,000 for the head of the Department of Planning and the House cut the sum to $10,000. The House cut the Joint Budget Committee recommendation of $25,000 annually for Education Commissioner A. W. Ford to $19,000.

Five other department head salaries had been proposed at the $25,000 level by Bumpers, but the House amounts were $18,000 for Social and Rehabilitative Services, $22,000 for Higher Education, $24,500 for Health, $17,000 for Industrial Development and $20,000 for Finance and Administration.

Other cuts were Department of Public Safety $20,000 to $18,500, Corrections $22,500 to $18,000, Parks and Tourism $20,000 to $12,500, Pollution Control and Ecology $20,000 to $13,000 and Commerce $20,000 to $18,500. The Labor Department salary recommendation of $13,500 was not changed.

In other action, the House: —Approved 77-0 a Senate bill to change the name of the Old State House in Little Rock to Arkansas' First State Capitol.

—Approved 86-1 a House bill appropriating $400,000 in each fiscal year for the governor's emergency fund. The fund was increased by $100,000 in each year Wednesday after the House removed a controversial section that placed in the funds contingency money for use by the penitentiary.

—Defeated 40-37 an amendment to a bill that would set up procedures for licensing osteopaths to full practice in Arkansas. The amendment would have required an osteopath in order to obtain his license, to have served a one-year internship in the last three years in a hospital approved by the American Osteopathic Association. The bill sets a five-year period.

In other action, the Senate: —Approved 31-0 a bill by Rep. Ralph Patterson of North Little Rock to pattern Arkansas drug abuse control law after new federal statutes, including provisions to make possession of marijuana a misdemeanor rather than a felony. Before approving the bill the Senate, at Patterson's request, deleted controversial provisions allowing "No knock" raids by authorities and permitting judges other

LETTER FROM THE SOURCE

Dear Helen:

We have seen the controversy stirred up in your column on the origin of "Hoosier." Since you mentioned us as a source, we thought you might be interested in the Indiana Almanac and Fact Book version. —H.L.C., Encyclopedia Britannica Editorial Assistant.

Thank you for some interesting additions to the Hoosier puzzle. To wit:

"Hoosier" dating back to the 1830s is one of the oldest of state nicknames and its origin is still not clear.

In addition to the pioneer greeting "Who's yere?" (meaning "who's here?") and "Hoosier's men" (Indiana laborers who worked for a contractor named Hoosier) other theories include:

1. James Whitcomb Riley's

U.S. NOT

stepped questions on whether their better understanding of U.S. policy would enable them to back Rogers' efforts.

Jackson remained sharply critical of Rogers' suggestion of a joint U.S.-Soviet peace-keeping force to police any settlement, although he said the secretary had made clear any such force would have to be approved by both Israel and Egypt.

The Washington Democrat, predicting the Senate would reject any such force, said such a joint effort would carry "the danger of the most serious kind of confrontation between the Russians and the United States."

Jackson said the Israel and Egypt should negotiate without the presence of a third party, such as United Nations special envoy Gunnar Jarring.

Rogers confined comment to a statement that the meeting "helped to clarify" the Nixon administration's position, adding: "I would hope the negotiations could continue ... in a period of quiet."

The talks were shelved at least temporarily Thursday when Jarring left the United Nations negotiating site to assume his regular duties as Swedish ambassador to Moscow.

A U.N. announcement said, however, Jarring intends to be back in late April and would return earlier "if developments warrant it."

Jackson and Javits said they thought the misunderstanding that the United States was pressuring Israel to return to 1967 borders before talks with Egypt stemmed from the secretary's March 17 news conference.

But Sen. J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee and a leading Senate backer of the Rogers policy, said some senators "had been misled" and implied Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban is at least partially responsible.

tongue-in-cheek explanation: He suggested the name grew out of early barroom fights in which men would gouge, scratch and bite off the noses and ears of their opponents. A settler who wandered into a tavern after a fight would find an ear on the floor, touch it with the toe of his boot and casually ask, "Whose ear?"

2. The strong arm story: Brawling Indiana rivermen were so often successful in trouncing or "hushing" their opponents they became known as "hushers" and eventually — Hoosiers.

3. Least colorful idea: Jacob P. Dunn, secretary of the Indiana Historical Society says the word "hoosier" was used in many parts of the 19th century South to describe woodsmen or rough hill people. It came from a dialect in England's Cumberland district, and was brought here by English immigrants moving into Indiana territory.

Like many words, Hoosier has changed in meaning over the years. Today it connotes a warm, friendly, gracious, strong and self-reliant people with a sense of the past and a firm grip on the future. —H.

Dear Helen:

This is for Steve, the man who found women dull, with no zest for life, and could think of no greater punishment than being married to one.

Well, here's a female side. I am 23, unmarried, much to the disappointment of my mother and friends. Girls have it just as rough, and their intentions in life aren't free-loading as Steve thinks. Over-eager parents make them "marriage maniacs," that's all.

I don't want to get married because I haven't seen a marriage yet in which I'd care to be the other half. My friends, all married, now tell me it's not worth it. They are either dominated by their husbands or are stuck with complete washouts. They resent being called "the old lady," or "the ball and chain." But still they worry that I may be an old maid!

I, like Steve, am being pressured into saving my money, getting a better job, so I'll have a better chance of getting a mate. I've worked all my life—how much do husbands cost? My sister went this route. Today her apartment is dingy, her furniture is falling apart, and her husband owns one of the finest boats in the neighborhood (which he takes out on weekends while she is stuck at home with the babies).

If this is marriage, then I, like Steve, have my doubts. I'm an individual. I want to be free! We women DO have a zest for life, but so often we're not allowed to display it, for it would threaten men's superiority. What really burns me is that people actually feel sorry for me because I'm nowhere close to marriage! Could it be they're envious? —REMAINING SINGLE

Dear R.S.:

You and Steve would make a great twosome. (And I'm not match-making for, I agree, marriage is not for everybody. You both seem "singularly" satisfied.) —H.
